

Wavelength Spectrometers

D 6

Well-made case, with lock and key to take the Nutting photometer, Michelson echelon, Lummer-Gehrcke parallel plate, Fabry-Perot etalon, and the other parts required for use with these accessories. Price £8 10 0

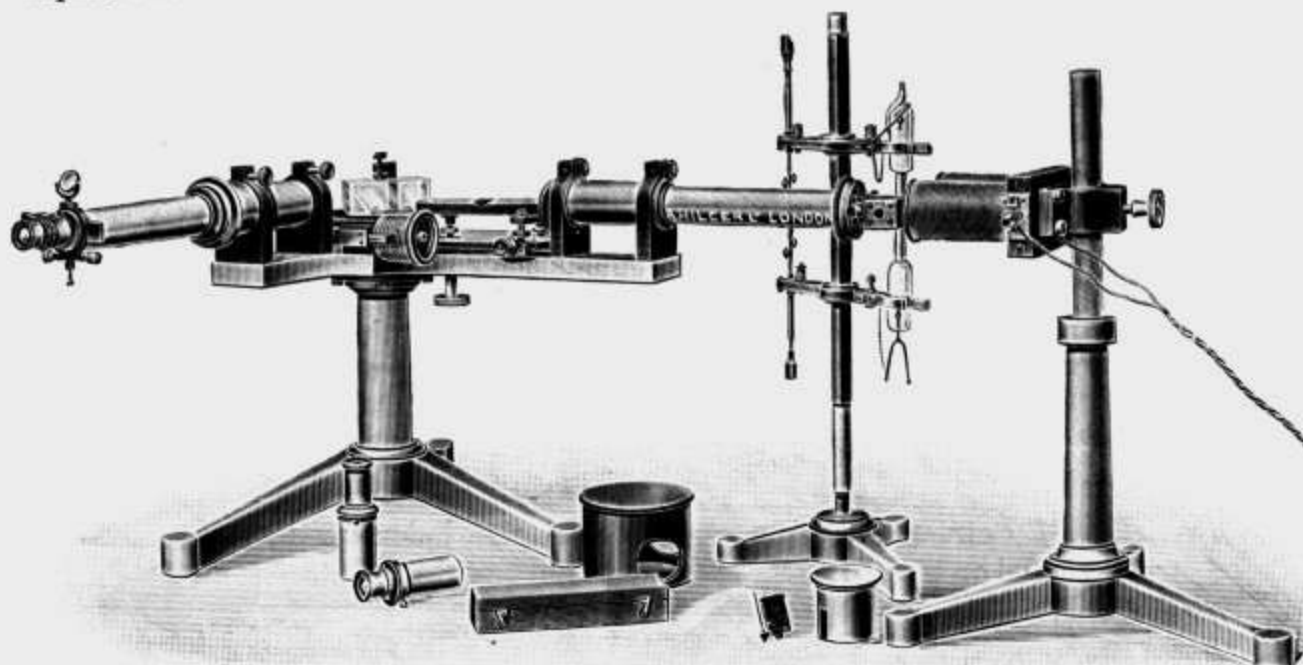

Fig. D. 7.

The above figure shows the Hilger Wavelength Spectrometer on Universal Base, arranged for use with Fabry-Perot etalon, etc. (see Section O); with Lummer-Gehrcke parallel plate in position as set up for observing the Zeeman effect.

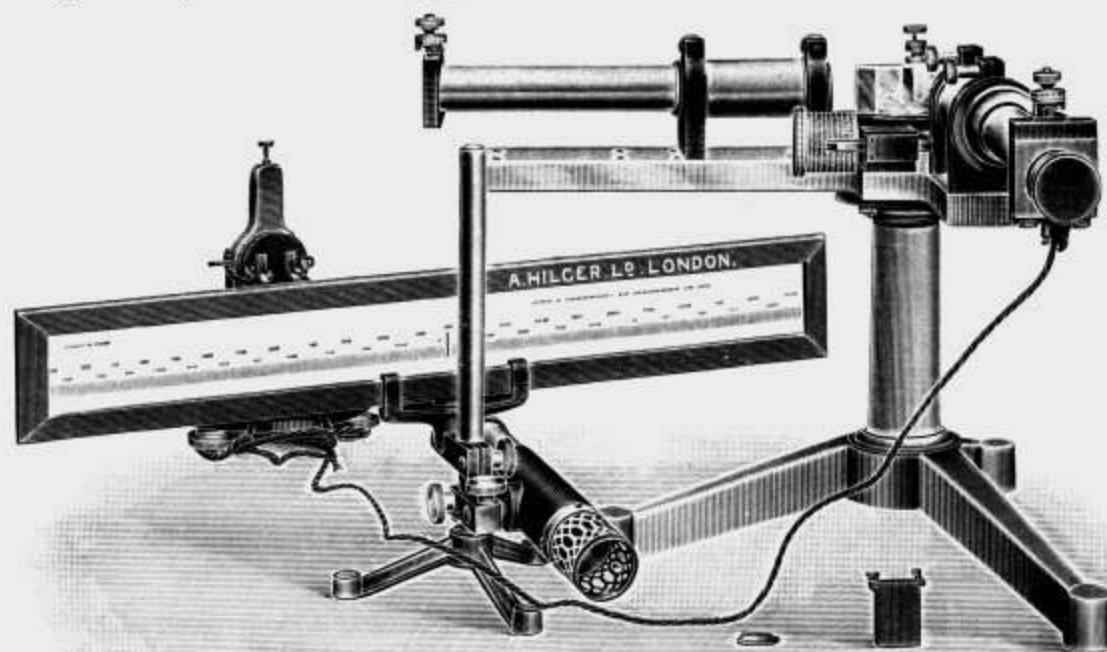

Fig. D 8.

The above figure shows the Hilger Wavelength Spectrometer on Universal Base, with Infra-red Accessories described on p. F 12.

ADAM HILGER, Ltd., 75a Camden Road, London, N.W.